

Harlan Rice-Union Community Scholarship Fund

Harlan Irwin Rice was born July 6, 1920 in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He showed a gift for musical ability at a very young age. He sang a solo in church at age three and was a member of a neighborhood orchestra while he was growing up. He sang in choirs and played in band all through elementary, middle and high school.

Harlan graduated from Franklin High School in 1938 and met his future wife, Virginia Stanton, in a youth group program at the Central Park Presbyterian Church. They were married in 1943 in the Lincoln Room, where President Lincoln once attended church services at the New York Presbyterian Church in Washington D.C.

After three years in the Marines, Harlan was hired by the La Porte City school administration in 1947 to teach instrumental music, which he did for 33 years. He developed an instructional music program that included private lessons, small groups, concert bands and marching bands. He also played professionally with swing dance bands on weekends and holidays.

Harlan touched so many lives and musically inspired 33 years of students during his hard work and encouraging instruction for the La Porte City school district. The Harlan Rice-Union Community Scholarship Fund will truly live out his legacy of support and vitality for the music programs to which he was so passionately dedicated. Harlan was an outstanding member of his community and through this fund, he will continue to support the musical abilities and interests of students for years to come through scholarships that will help graduating students from the Union Community further their music education.
